Democrats Meet At French Lick | ASSAULT ARC

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Sept. 15 (UP)-Indiana democratic editors, party leaders and state and congressional candidates arrived here today from all parts of Hoosierdom to open their 1944 general election campaign with home talent program features.

The spotlight turns tomorrow night on Governor Schricker and Sen. Samuel D. Jackson, each a candidate for the job now held by the other. Chief interest as the party leaders gathered was speculation of what the governor would say to the members and guests of the Indiana Democratic

Editorial Association and a Hoosier

radio audience tomorrow night at a banquet climaxing the two-day meet. Schricker has been silent on politics thus far in the campaign, while his fellow democratic state ticket candidates got off to earlier starts with their appeals for voter support in November. YANKS FORM AROUND AACHEN

FIRST ARMY BREACHES OUTER FORTS OF GERMAN SIEG-FRIED LINE

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF., Sept. 15.-(UP)-American 1st Army forces closed an assault arc around three sides of Aachen today, breached the outer forts of the Siegfried Line in great strength, and plunged head-on into a blazing tank and artillery battle in the heart of the Nazi west wall.

At the same time, other 1st Army the Albert canal and Meuse river barriers and advanced deep into the narrow neck of Holland jutting down between Belgium and Germany.

"Enemy resistance in Holland is sporadic," a United Press dispatch from 1st Army headquarters said in disclosing the new American breakthrough. The Yanks apparently crossed the border around the Dutch city of Maastricht, which Berlin said was "lost" to strong American armored forces.

Another field dispatch said American infantrymen, now only a mile or less from the gates of Aachen, were in firm control of wooded heights overlooking the city from the east. south, and west, threatening momentarily to break into the big communications center.

A 1st Army tank spearhead, meanwhile, thrust into Germany below the Siegfried Line in its path.

The American armor, United Press reported from the Aachen front, "has pushed into the full depth of the Siegried Line."

Liberty Ship To Be Closed

At a meeting of the county USO ommittees on recreation held Thursday afternoon, it was decided to close Liberty Ship, the local USO center. Dean L. H. Dirks, chairman of the committee, stated that need for such a center was past and he commended the scores of volunteer workers who have made its eighteen months of operation a success. Ap preciation was expressed, too, to the local Elks organization for their participation during the months their club facilities were placed at the disposal of USO. During the summer months, when limited space of Liber ty Ship could not accomodate the units to the northwest burst across crowds, DePauw University's "Barn" was made available and that courtesy was recognized by the committee.

Furniture and equipment owned by USO were made available to Teen Canteen and it is expected that the youth center will move these to their new location at an early date.

Members of the committees who attended the meeting included, in addition to Dean Dirks, Lois Arnold, Miss Helen Black, Mrs. John Cartwright, Harley Miller, Fred Pease, and Perry Rush.

IN RAIL CRASH AT TERRE HAUTE MAJORITY OF VICTIMS WERE VETERANS BACK FROM OVERSEAS DUTY

DEATH TOLL 32

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 15 (UP)-A twisted mass of wreckage, still sprinkled with campaign ribbons and the personal effects of army air force personnel, today marked the spot where 32 persons died in the head-on collision between the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad's luxurious Chicago-Miami express and a northbound mail train north of Terre Haute early yesterday.

Twenty-nine of the dead were army airmen, many of them veterans of the Italian campaign, and the remainder were train crewmen, the chief dispatches of the railroad at Danville, Ill., reported.

All of the dead airmen were riding in the first car, which was ripped open when the passenger train, speeding through a heavy fog, rammed into the stationary mail train.

The dispatcher also reported 37 persons were injured in the wreck but Vigo county coroner Denzil M Ferguson estimated that at least 65 persons were hurt, many of them

The first three cars of the passenger train contained army personnel. Some of the men were on furlough and others were enroute to Miami for reassignment.

All of those seriously injured were airforce men with the exception of one train crewman. Physicians said that all civilian injured were released from hospitals but the trainmen. Railroad officials said the wreck occured when the engineer of the Dixie Flyer, Frank Blair, 52, Farm ersburg, Ind., apparently failed to see block signals in the heavy fog.

Blair and his fireman, Louis Rausch, 55, Evansville, were killed Rausch was pinned in the wreckage of the engine and his body had to be cut out with blow torches, James C. Turner, 39, Chicago, negro porter, was the other crewman killed. The wreck occured about five miles north of Terre Haute, approximately one mile from Atherton where the mail train was to await passage of Railroad officials said they had not determined if the mail train was behind schedule or the Flyer was ahead of time, although they said the latter was more probable since the mail train was standing still.

Service on the railroad was resumed last night when wrecking crews completed a by-pass around the

GEN. MacARTHUR ON HIS WAY BACK TO PHILIPPINES

AMERICA'NS HIT JAP POSITIONS ONLY 250 MILES FROM ISLANDS

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 15 .-(UP)-A big American invasion ar mada poured fighting men ashore on the Japanese island of Palau, 560 miles east of the Philippines, today as Gen. Douglas MacArthur's troops stormed up into the Halmahera Islands from the south in a twin offensive to clear the road back to Bataan and Corregidor.

Exploding their greatest combined offensive of the Pacific war, Mac-Arthur and Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the U. S. Pacific fleet, breached the coastal defenses of the two island bastions under cover of shattering bombardments from sea and sky.

MacArthur led his troops ashore early Friday on Morotai Island, northernmost of the Halmaheras and Mass., early today, leaving 700 miles only 250 miles south of the Philipof Atlantic coast line and half a doz- pines, at almost the same moment Nimitz' marines and army assault units were battling across the beaches of Palau.

(Because of time differentials, Nimitz' announcement said the Palau landing occurred Thursday morning, Honolulu time, which would be Friday morning Malmahera time.)

The twin invasion blow threatened to break the chain of sprawling island bases established by the Japanese around the Philippines and the western and southern approaches to the Chinese mainland, and first reports from Palau said the enemy was fighting back furiously from long-

> On Palau, however, one of the toughest battles of the Pacific campaign was believed in progress, possibly exceeding in savagery the epic fight for Saipan or the marine landing on Tarawa,

The troops who swarmed ashore had to overcome obstacles of barbed wire on the beaches, backed up by entrenched machine gun positions. Further inland were larger guns, probably ranging up to six inches, and the deadly mortars which caused smashed or driven far up on beaches heavy casualties on the Marianas beachheads.

A brief navy communique said reinforcements were being put ashore of 31 was rescued by the coast guard from a host of transports guarded by the guns and planes of Admiral William F. Halsey's Third Fleet, and that the landings were "continuing against stiff ground opposition."

The reference to "ground" opposition indicated that the bulk of Palau's aerial defenses had been smashed by Halsey's task force in a series of softening up bombardments that began on Sept. 5 and continued almost without interruption until the zero hour.

(The exact point of the landing was not disclosed, but radio Tokyo said the attack centered on Peleliu Island, southernmost of the chain of (Continued on Page 2)

Field dispatches said the Amerians were battering slowly forward through a maze of tank traps and ending as much as 10 miles into the Reich from Aachen to Trier, against resistance that appeared to be stifening hourly.

Hitler's last great defense line in the west swayed in the balance as the Nazis broke off their headlong retreat and turned to fight in force. "Now that the final, showdown battle has been joined along the greater part of the 1st Army front, it is obvious that it is not going to be any walkaway," United Press War Correspondent Joseph W. Grigg reported from the 12th Army group's headquarters.

Coach Raymond R. (Gaumy) Neal's DePauw Tigers have been sharpening the claws of their defensve techniques this week, with special emphasis on defense against forward passes from the single-wing and T-formations and against running attacks from both formations.

Preparing for the season's opener with Ohio Wesleyan on September 30, Neal and his assitants, Willard E. Umbreit, and Specialist 2/class John W. Provost of the V-12 unit, have been stressing individual performances and polishing up running and passing attacks in dummy scrimnage. The 45 aspirants for spots on the team, all but three Navy men, are fighting hard for places, with the starting line-up for the first game not yet settled. Individual performances in punting, drop-kicking, and place-kicking will be emphasized during the next week, and daily drills are being wound up with brisk scrim mages.

Backfield men who have shown up to advantage in practice sessions irclude Howard Eloe, 155-pound quarterback from Aurora, Neb., high school all-state and all conference; Fred Johnson, 160-pound back who formerly center-fielded on Purdue's baseball team; Jim Stauffer, 165pound first string fullback at Carleton College ;and Al Stock, 190-pound halfback from Milwaukee.

Others in stiff competition for places in the backfield are Bob Grueter, left half from Chicago; Jim Kennedy, high school all-state from Noblesville, Ed Keane, a good blocker from Los Angeles, and Carlos Bell, first-string back from Washington high school in Indianapolis.

Reaches Quebec

QUEBEC, Sept. 15,-(UP)-British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, with a briefcase bulging with international political problems that multiply with every blow against Germany and Japan, today joined the Roosevelt-Churchill discussions about how to win the global war as soon as possible and what to do about the post-war world.

Eden began his conference with Churchill last night and was to meet jointly today with the President and the Prime Minister.

Mr. Roosevelt and Churchill had rirtually completed their military consultations and were for the most part awaiting a final decision from their staff chiefs who have been in almost continuous session since they arrived here. There will be at least one more full dress meeting of the President, Churchill and the combined chiefs of staff before the conclusion of these current conversations this week end.

The conference will reach a climax when Mr. Roosevelt and Churchill have completed their current endeavors to the point where they can say something publicly about what has been done here. Last year when they met here their conferences ended with the issuance of what was promptly labeled as "the declaration of Quebec" in which they outlined in general terms the forthcoming battle for Europe and accelerated warfare in the Pacific.
